A MOB REPULSED.

Birmingham, Ala., the Scene of a Bloody Riot.

RIFLES AND A GATLING GUN USED WITH DEADLY EFFECT.

Ten Men Killed and a Number Seriously If Not Fatally Wounded—Petition to the Governor Demanding the Removal of Sheriff Smith—A Regiment of Soldiers Now Guarding the Jail.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 11.—The Hawes murder mystery has been solved! A terrible riot has resulted. The mob stormed the jail, bent on lynching Hawes, the mur-derer. A sheriff's posse opened fire on the maddened crowd and shot to kill. As the volleys rang sharply on the air a score of citizens threw up their hands with wild cries and groans of pain and sunk to the ground dying or wounded. There were ten killed outright, two fatally shot and ten wounded more or less severely. The city is in a tumult of intense excitement and Hawes is still safe in jail.

The story of the terrible affair is as follows: Saturday afternoon the announcement was given out that the mutilated body of the missing mother, Mrs. Emma K. Hawes, whose daughter May was murdered, had been found in the murky waters of the lake at Lakeview, a suburban resort, and a half a mile only from Eastlake, where the body of her daughter May was recovered. The rumor proved true, and in half an hour thousands of excited men, women and children hurried forward to the lake. The suspicion had gone abroad early in the day that likely the body had been secreted there, as it was only about 200 yards from the Hawes home.

About 11 o'clock four determined men set to work to drag the lake with grappling hooks. Near 11 o'clock one of the hooks struck a heavy, yielding substance, and soon the mutilated corpse lay on the bank.
The combined strength of four men was required to land it. The body was weighed down with heavy pieces of "fish-plate" railroad iron tied around the neck and waist of the murdered woman. She was completely clad, and around her neck and waist were tied heavy scarlet cords known to have been at the Hawes residence, to which were attached six iron pieces weighing about ten pounds each.

The back of the dead woman's skull shows the horrible story of the tragedy. It had been crushed in with some blunt instrument, presumably an ax. The entire occipital bone is crushed in, and there is a gaping cavity that is only half concealed by her heavy auburn hair. Her right hand was badly skinned across the back, as if injured in a struggle for life, and the appearance of the face and hands indicates that the body had been in the water several days. The body as soon as found was taken to the shore and laid out with the iron weights which had held it to the bottom still tied around the neck and waist.

As it lay on the bank the crowd of curious and indignant spectators crowded around and momentarily increased until it swelled into a surging multitude. The feeling of horror, rage and desperation increased instantly until it reached the point of frenzy. Mute threats of vengeance were heard coming from lips whose utterances the people of Birmingham have long since learned to know mean what they say, and strong men almost cried in the intensity of their excitement.

Meanwhile the search for the body of the youngest child of Mrs. Hawes went on, but up to 8 o'clock Sunday night it had not been found.

Late Saturday afternoon a mob began to congregate at Second and Third avenues and Nineteenth street. It swelled to fully 10,000 in number. Talk of lynching Hawes and his two negro accomplices in the murder was heard on every hand.

By Mayor Thompson's order Marshal Packard had surrounded the jail with a large posse. These men were armed with Winchester rifles and a Gatling gun.

At midnight Saturday the mob around the county jail began slowly pressing back the outer guard, and advanced down Twenty-first street to the mouth of the alley leading to the jail entrance. The alley is about a hundred feet long and twenty wide, and is the only approach to the jail. When the crowd reached the mouth of the alley Sheriff Smith, from the jail, warned them to stand back time and again. He yelled to them to keep back, as they would be fired on if they advanced up the alley. Finally he called out:
"I will count three, and if a man remains in the alley we will fire."

He counted three, and the crowd fell back a little, and the officers did not fire. This seemed to make the mob bolder, and again they pressed up the alley. Sheriff Smith yelled to them: "I will count five, and if you do not fall back we will fire." He counted five, while the mob howled, yelled and continued to advance up the alley. Then the officers opened fire, which was at once returned by the mob.

At least a thousand shots were fired. Then the mob fell back leaving the ground covered with dead and wounded men. Several dead were hurriedly carried away by their friends before identified.

Postmaster M. B. Throckmorton was shot through the body, and is dead. He was near the front of the mob trying to disperse it.
The killed are, Frank Childer, M. B.
Throckmorton, postmaster; J. R. McCoy, A.
B. Tarrant, A. D. Bryant, C. C. Tate, a painter, Robert Smith, colored; unknown man, colored; Charles Jenkins, — Branden.

The fatally wounded are, Charles Bailey, Louisville & Nashville brakeman; A. J.
Schiede, mechanic.

The other wounded are, J. W. Montgomery, — Berkeley, John H. Morrill, Matt Kennedy, J. W. Owen, carpenter, J.
W. Gilmore, Albert Smith, colored; W. A.
Bird, L. Reichwein, Lawrence Fitzhugh, civil engineer.

Hawes was seen in the jail after the attack. He appeared unconcerned and said:

"Yes, I know what the shooting meant.
That crowd wanted my life and they can have it."

He seemed to feel that the mob would succeed in getting in the jail, and he dressed himself and expressed his readiness to accompany the crowd as soon as they reached him. He still stoutly asserts his innocence of the charge of having murdered his wife and child.

Sheriff Smith and Marshal Pickard both regret the terrible affair, but feel that they did their duty.

A petition to Governor Seay was circulated Sunday and received 10,000 signatures demanding the removal of Sheriff Smith.

All day Sunday Birmingham continued in a tumult of excitement. There was, however, no further attempt at storming the jail.

The Second regiment of Georgia arrived on a special train, and at night 500 soldiers, with two Gatling guns, guarded the jail.
It was reported Sunday night that Sheriff Smith, Marshal Pickard and others had been jailed on warrants.

One very remarkable feature is that nearly every man killed was shot in the back, showing that the crowd had turned away when the firing was begun. Postmaster Throckmorton was shot in the lower back through and through; A. D. Bryant was shot through the heart from the rear. Many point to this as very damaging to the officers.

The military seem to have complete control of the city, and it is hoped that no further resort to arms will be made. Col.
Jones, in command of the militia, Sunday night issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to refrain from assembling in the neighborhood of the jail, and requesting them not to assemble in crowds anywhere in the city. He invokes the aid of all good citizens to assist the authorities in allaying the excitement, and preserve peace and good order.

A similar proclamation has been issued by Mayor Thompson who calls upon all law-abiding citizens to "put aside their private grievances and guard with loyalty the public peace, and maintain the law and order of our city."

A report reached the city during Sunday evening that bands of miners were preparing to march on the city to renew the attack upon the jail. Col. Jones believes, however, that his force is sufficiently strong to resist any such movement.

ANARCHIST MEETINGS.

They Hold Them in Chicago Notwithstanding the Police.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Anarchists held meetings Sunday notwithstanding the measures adopted by the police to prevent such as-semblies. The Arbeiter Bund, the group which the police are especially anxious to suppress, held a three hour session during the afternoon and 250 persons were in attendance.
The Sunday school society met at Thalia hall and defied the police, while the American Socialists had their usual Sunday afternoon gathering. The police had issued no order against the latter proceedings and nothing of a revolutionary character occurred. On the contrary the chief speaker of the afternoon denounced Anarchy. At Grief's hall the Pioneer Aid and Support association met for a few moments and then adjourned to take part in Thalia hall proceedings.

Police officers in plain clothes mingled with the crowds at the halls at which meetings had been called, and uniformed officers patrolled neighborhoods in which it was thought trouble was most likely to occur.
Strong details were held in reserve at all the stations, but in no instance were they required to suppress any attempted outbreak.
The day was characterized by an absence of violence.

Nina Van Zandt was one of the number of women at Grief's hall, and joined her protestations with others against police interference.

Fired On By Oyster Pirates.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—The spirit of meekness manifested by the state navy has emboldened the oyster pirates of the Chesapeake to the point of recklessness and audacity. They so far forgot themselves last night as to turn their guns on a passenger steamer. About 7:30 p. m. as the steamer Corisca, of the Chester River Steamboat company, was coming out of the Chester river on her way to Baltimore she passed a large fleet of dredgers at anchor. When the steamer passed them the pirates began to yell. One of the passengers of the steamer answered with a whoop. Then the dredgers opened fire and riddled the side of the Corisca with bullets and buckshot. There were thirty passengers aboard the steamer, but they were all in their cabins except the one who dared to yell at the pirates.

The Vesuvius' Trial Trip.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—The United States dynamite cruiser Vesuvius left Cramp's shipyard Saturday morning for Delaware bay, where her trial trip will be made. Those on board were: Naval Constructor Lewis Nixon, William M. Cramp, Andrew J. Cramp, Charles S. Cramp, Edwin S. Cramp, A. C. Buell, of Washington.
The United States steamer Despatch accompanied the Vesuvius. On board of here were:
Lieut. William S. Cowles, Lieut. Raymond
P. Rogers, Lieut. Bradley Fiske, Commodore
John G. Walker and Lieut. Seaton Schroeder.

White Caps in Texas.

WACO, Tex., Dec. 11.—The White Caps fogged George Armstrong, a white man, nearly to death early Sunday morning for leaving his wife destitute and sick and publicly living with another woman. The whippers wore white caps, which came down over their faces. A notice was pinned to a tree where the flogging took place, informing all citizens that the perpetrators were law abiding, but determined to mete out punishment to the guilty, when the statutes failed.

Chicago's Candidate for P. P.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—The press club of Chicago at an unusually large meeting Sunday afternoon unanimously passed a resolution indorsing Capt. William E. Meredith, of this city, for the position of public printer.

A Railroad Rumor.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 11.—It is currently rumored here that C. P. Huntington has purchased the Memphis & Little Rock railroad, and will use it as a southwest feeder for the Mississippi valley system.

PERSIA'S RULER.

Russia and England Aspirants for His Favoritism.

A RUSSIAN MILITARY OFFICER
URGES OCCUPATION BY FORCE.

Unless Persia's Treaty Opening the Town of Karan to the English is Cancelled.
Bagamoyo Still the Scene of Bloodshed.
England Sends More Troops to Suakim.
Other Foreign Notes.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—England and Russia have for years been striving for ascendancy in the shah's domains. The latter potentate has an embarrassing task to perform in choosing which of the two aspirants shall be admitted to avowed favoritism, and in true eastern fashion is coquetting with both.

Until within a few years English influence was predominant at Teheran, but either through awkward management or the steady encroachment of Russia on the north, a greatly increased respect for the power of the czar has been observable in the conduct of the "king of kings."

A generation ago many officers of the English army, chosen for their acquaintance with eastern languages and customs, entered the Persian service, and while bringing the troops to a higher state of efficiency, greatly increased the respect felt for England's greatness and military strength.

Since then the gigantic strides of Russia in Asia contrasted with the stationary attitude of England on the eastern frontier have seemed to denote the former as the power destined to dominate affairs in that continent and the shah has shown a natural inclination to worship the rising sun. Appreciating the value of Persia as an obstacle of more importance against a Russian advance than even Afghanistan, England has taken the alarm and is using every effort to recover her influence at the court of the shah.

The rumors which come from German sources should be accepted with caution. The embroidering of England with Russia would cause a secret gratification not difficult to understand, at Berlin, and the prominence given by the German press to each petty incident likely to provoke a rupture between the two powers is not done without encouragement from those high in authority.

Whatever should be the result in the event of such a war Russia would be weakened for years by it and incapacitated for combating the designs of Germany in western Europe.

It is difficult to believe that England is deliberately courting Russia, unless she deems such a course indispensable to preserve India and is assured of the moral support, at least of the triple alliance.

The incidents reported as showing a desire on the part of Persia to offend Russian officials resident there and to throw difficulties in the way of Russian subjects purchasing provisions are only important as exhibiting an unexpected courage on the part of the shah and a departure from his recent Russophile policy.

An Ultimatum Urged.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 11.—A conference was held at the office of the minister of foreign affairs, regarding the crisis between Russia and Persia. A high military officer urged as an ultimatum, the occupation of Persia by a Russian force, unless the former country cancelled the treaty opening to the English, the town of Karan, a seaport of the Persian gulf. M. De Giers, minister of foreign affairs, opposed the proposition and counseled moderation.

Fighting Continues at Bagamoyo.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Telegrams from Zanzibar say that the fighting at Bagamoyo continues, and that the town is in flames.
The German White Book shows that an October letter written by Bismarck to the consul at Zanzibar throws the entire blame for failure in east Africa upon the company's shoulders, who ought better to have respected the prejudices of the natives. The Arabs of the coast have thrown off allegiance to the sultan of Zanzibar, and are in complete possession. The East African company has lost over $1,750,000 and is ruined.
An effort will be made in the German reich stag to authorize reconquest by the government.

Reinforcements for Suakim.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The government has ordered that troops from the Mediterranean stations be sent to Suakim. Troops will be sent from England to replace the forces taken from the Mediterranean garrisons.
The request from Suakim for a further reinforcement of troops after last Saturday's reconnoitering is believed to have been instigated by the government themselves as affording the easiest mode of retiring from an untenable attitude and from appearing to the public to entertain any misgivings as to the success of their plans.

Efforts to Detach Italy.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—The Latin league, whose aim is to detach Italy from the triple alliance, is openly avowed by both political parties in Spain. Senor Castellar goes to Spain to invite Republicans to join a coalition against Crispin's policy, and if possible effect an alliance between Italy, France, Spain and Belgium, as against the Austro-German alliance. Premier Armiijo favors it.

At the Tomb of Dussoubs.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—Four hundred persons attended a demonstration at the tomb of Dussoubs Sunday. Orations were delivered and a number of wreaths were laid on the tomb.
Rain fell during the proceedings which were conducted in an orderly manner.

Foreign Notes.

The radicals carried the Serbian elections.
Sagasta is trying to form a new Spanish ministry.
The Rome correspondent of the Times denies that the pope has authorized Catholics to vote in the Italian elections.

The Tribuna, of Rome, prints an official denial of the statement that Prince Lychenstein has offered his castle as a residence for the pope.

The Spanish queen regent has intrusted Senor Sagasta with the formation of a new cabinet. Senor Sagasta encounters much difficulty.

Boulangist conferences held at St. Die and Epinal Sunday resulted in conflicts in which several persons were injured. The police cleared the streets.

The press of India severely condemns Lord Salisbury's insult to the Indian race, when speaking of the Parsee merchant who ran for parliament in England.

Two battalions of the line have been ordered from Antwerp to Galonviers, the center of the strikes and attempted dynamite outrages. A large number of strikers have been arrested.

Two members of a Republican society have been arrested at Naples for an attempt to wreck the German consulate there with a dynamite bomb. No damage was done as the bomb did not explode.

It is announced by the professional agitators that 17,000 unemployed workmen are on the eve of reviving the Trafalgar square troubles, which have resulted in so much disaster and so little profits to the really needy.

The heirs to Thomas H. Blythe's millions have been found. Blythe was the natural son of Sarah Savage and Thomas H. Blythe, of Hampshire, England, who disappeared from England in 1828. Blythe died intestate in San Francisco in 1883.

A fight ensued between the Catholics and Socialists at Amsterdam meeting hall. All the furniture in the hall was smashed. The police were compelled to fire, and several of the rioters were wounded. Many arrests were made. Great agitation continues throughout the city. The matter under consideration was the erection of a statue to the pope.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Meeting of the Association of Maryland.
Resolutions Adopted.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Civil Service Reform association of Maryland a preamble and resolutions were adopted reciting the fact that Gen. Harrison had accepted and endorsed the civil service reform plank of the National Republican convention, and that he was, therefore entitled to look for the support of "a bold, vigilant and enlightened public opinion" in the fulfillment of the pledges of his party; the recent utterances of Senator Ingalls and other prominent public men render it necessary that the friends of good government should oppose, by all legiti-mate means, every attempt from any quarter to procure the violation of the civil service promises of the party; all civil service reform associations are urged to take such action as will keep their principles constantly before the public in such manner as will surely engage the attention of the incoming administration.

A Week's Enterprises.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The following summary furnished by the New Enterprise shows the progress of the manufacturing industries of the country, including incorporated companies' buildings, etc., for the week ending Saturday: Buildings costing over $5,000 each, 277; $6,388,641; bridges, nine, $575,000; churches, thirty-eight, $120,500; electric light companies and new plants, four, $192,000; gas companies, two, $1,200,000; manufacturing companies, sixty-two, $6,134,300; mills factories, etc., nine, $2,689,000; mining companies, twelve, $1,045,000; railroads and extensions, sixteen, $50,070,000; water works, eleven, $531,144.

White Caps True to Their Word.

LIMA, O., Dec. 11.—A White Cap notice was left last Wednesday night at Thomas Casey's saloon, notifying him that unless he vacated the building within twenty-four hours it would be burned to the ground.
Casey did not heed the warning, and Saturday night the building was burned. The White Caps left notices at several other saloons to take warning by Casey's treatment and leave town.

Canon Little in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Canon Little, of Worcester cathedral, England, preached Sunday at Holy Trinity church, from the text St. John xvi, 3: "I am the way and the truth and the life." The discourse was an able exposition of doctrine and precept.

Hammond Pleads Guilty.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Henry Hermann, alias Hammond, when arraigned again today for complicity in the shooting of Phil.
Daly, withdrew his former plea of not guilty, pleaded guilty and was remanded.

The Weather.

Indications—Fair, except rain or snow on the lakes; warmer; southwesterly winds.

A Correction.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Meridan, Miss., says that the new organization of agriculturists has adopted the name the Farmers' and Laborers' Union of America, instead of the Alliance Wheat and Co-operative Union, as at first proposed. The next meeting will be at St. Louis in August, 1889. No report of the proceedings or results of the secret meetings has been made public.

A Rival to the S. of V.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 11.—In New York and New Jersey are rival organizations of the Sons of Veterans. They have the post instead of the camp system. Gen. Walter S.
Payne, late candidate for secretary of state on the Prohibition ticket, who was ousted from the Sons of Veterans for alleged irregularities, has been asked to organize posts of the new organization in this state.

Serious Charge Against Comstock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Michael J. Sullivan, an ex special agent of Anthony Com-stock's Society for the Suppression of Vice, has made affidavit to serious charges which he brings against the society and its officers.
He claims that one of its agents, with the knowledge of Comstock, receives $120,000 a year from gamblers who are accorded the "protection" of the society.

Geyser in Dakota.

YANKTON, Dak., Dec. 11.—Considerable of a stir was made here Saturday night over apparently well confirmed reports of a volcano having broken loose in Charles Mix county, sixty miles from here. It turns out to be a geyser, which is throwing hot mud all over the surrounding valley. The neighboring settlers are somewhat uneasy over the situation.
